

PREACHING AND LITERARY GENRE: OT NARRATIVE, EPISTLES, AND WISDOM LITERATURE

Instructors: Kent Hughes, Mark Dever, Phil Ryken, John Woodhouse, Dave Helm,
David Jackman, Doug O'Donnell, Josh Harris, Kathleen Nielson, Carrie Sandom, Colleen McFadden

DESCRIPTION

This course provides a teaching practice and laboratory to provide students with tools, models and opportunities for practicing teaching from Old Testament (OT) Narrative, Epistles, and Wisdom Literature. Lectures will focus attention on the exegetical demands of those genres, specifically concerning how to study these texts for teaching and preaching.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

By the end of this Course:

1. Students will have an accurate grasp of the main characteristics of OT Narrative, Epistles, and Wisdom Literature and understand the specialized opportunities and demands of teaching from texts of these genres.
2. Students will improve the quality of their own study and preparation for teaching by interacting with diverse, expert practitioners over their own preparation on texts from these genres.
3. Students will, by virtue of a mentored, critiqued ministry experience, be better able to bring all their theological and ministry insights to bear on faithfully expounding from OT Narrative, Epistles, and Wisdom Literature.
4. Students will appreciate the value of offering and receiving constructive feedback.
5. Students will allow the taught Word itself to inform their lives in ways consistent with the reasons the Holy Spirit saw fit to include them in Scripture.

COURSE FORMAT

This Course is divided into three primary components. The first element is “Instruction” for the student’s apprehension of tools for studying and teaching from diverse genres. The instruction comes primarily through the lecture component as well as the reading materials, study guides and supplementary video/audio lectures available on the website. The second element is the “Demonstration” of the tools through model expositions. Practicing pastors and Bible teachers have partnered with the Course to give sermons or talks that both demonstrate the tools as well as feed the students in the Course. The third element is “Practice.” The students will submit their own work to the group in order to launch discussion and analysis aimed at improving each student’s work.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

Each student is expected to:

1. View all video lectures and attend all group sessions. Video lectures can be viewed together in groups or asynchronously. Group sessions will take place in person. Grade penalties will be assessed for excessive absences.
2. Complete the written study questions for each week of class and turn them into the Course Coordinator or Director of Training.
3. Read the passage from which each of the other group members will present prior to the group meeting. Offer a thoughtful critique of the presenter’s work through the discussion. Engage the material and presenters.
4. Prepare practice outlines in advance of the group session on weeks when assigned.
5. Prepare a practice talk in advance of the group session on weeks when assigned. Provide the Group Coordinator or Director of Training for the Simeon Course.
6. Participate in your church’s training and teaching activities as part of your training.
